New in this Release

This section lists the enhancements to IDOL Data Admin version 11.6.0.

- You can now use the IDOL `SYNONYM` query operator for your synonym rules. The `SYNONYM` operator can improve the result weighting in your queries, because it weights all the synonymous terms as if they are the same term.
- You can now add a database restriction to your synonym rules. In this case, a synonym rule applies to a user query only if the user query contains a database restriction that matches the database restriction in the rule.
- You can now add a database restriction to your promotion rules. In this case, a promotion rule applies to a user query only if the user query contains a database restriction that matches the database restriction in the rule.
- You can now use IDOL Data Admin with an IDOL View Component configured in Universal Viewing mode.
- The `hpe.dataadmin.home` property has been renamed to `idol.dataadmin.home`. The older version of this property is still supported, but it is deprecated. It might be removed in a future version.
- You can now use a mirror mode Distributed Action Handler (DAH) that distributes to a cluster of Community components, as an alternative to a single Community component.

Resolved Issues

This section lists the resolved issues in IDOL Data Admin version 11.6.0.
