New in this Release

The following new features were released in Lithium Connector version 12.4.0.

- The NiFi Ingest connector includes a processor to perform the view action (`ViewLithium`).
- The connector supports Lithium authentication (previous versions of the connector supported other types of authentication such as HTTP Basic). If the community uses Lithium authentication set the new configuration parameters `Username` and `Password`.
- In schedules defined with the `schedule` action, you can now add holiday periods during which no actions are started.

Resolved Issues

The following issues were resolved in Lithium Connector version 12.4.0.

- Schedules created with `action=Schedule` were lost if the server was restarted.
- On Linux, when running some older versions of the Linux kernel, IDOL components could fail to connect to network ports.
